

AGREEMENT

To Settle Coal Strike Outside the Commission

The Commissioners Acquiesce and Agree to Assist By Acting as Advisors In The Negotiations--How It Was Brought About.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 22.—The anthracite coal strike commission met this morning to adjourn until December 3, when it will convene again to hear the report of counsel for the operators and miners on efforts made to effect an agreement, without the intervention of the commission. While no one knows on the outside just what the basis of settlement will be it is thought that the forecast is correct: ten per cent. increase in wages, a nine hour day and yearly contracts between each company and its own employees.

Justice Gray today appointed commissioners Parker, Clark and Watkins a committee to remain and assist in the work of conciliation. The committee is empowered to call the commission together before Dec. 3 if necessary. It can be said in authority that the independent operators will be given a full hearing in the coming conferences of the attorneys. It is likely that the operators' attorneys will first see the presidents of the coal carrying roads before entering the conferences.

Scranton, Nov. 22.—A bombshell was thrown into the peaceful, quiet of the mine hearing this morning when Attorney Burns, one of the counsel for the independents, arose and said that the independent operators had not been consulted in this new settlement and that they were parties to issue before the court. Burns said that his clients wanted the issue thrashed out before the commission. Burns said a full hearing before the commission would end in an agreement that would be most lasting. The matter is still being argued.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 22.—The Mine Workers through their representatives have agreed with the mine owners to attempt to adjust the differences existing between them outside the anthracite coal strike commission.

The proposition was made on a compromise basis and negotiations, it is expected, will be at once entered upon with a reasonable hope of settlement without the aid of the arbitrators.

The rough proposition which is to form the basis of negotiations is a 10 per cent increase in wages, a 9-hour day and trade agreements between the miners and the company by which they are employed.

The only one of the four demands not touched upon is that of the weighing of coal by the legal ton. While both sides have expressed a willingness to settle their differences among themselves it is not to be construed that it carries with it the acceptance of the terms proposed.

They are mentioned only as a basis.

It is understood, from which a settlement is to be effected. It is possible that the foundation already laid can be wrecked by either party holding out too strongly against some question and thus leave the whole matter in the hands of the commissioners who, in the meantime, will act as a sort of board of consolation rather than as a board of arbitration.

Few persons were aware that an attempt would be made at an outside settlement until it was practically so intimated by Judge Gray, the chairman of the commission, who read a carefully prepared announcement from the "bench."

The move, one of the most important in the whole history of the coal strike, created a mild sensation when it became known. The surprise was all the greater when it was remembered that numerous persons from the president of the United States down, and many organizations from the National Civic Federation to the small boards of trade of the mining towns, failed to bring the two parties together.

It is said it was all brought about by both sides seeing that the proceedings before the commission would be interminable and that in the intermingling of the lawyers for both sides the outside agreement proposition was broached and taken up.

It cannot be officially stated which party made the proposition first. The attorneys for both sides are averse to talking, but those who were inclined to say something differ in their statements.

An attorney for one of the railroads said it came from the miners' side while one lawyer for the miners said it came from the operators. Another representative of the miners said it was a "spontaneous" proposition.

It is generally believed however that the operators were the first to make the proposition.

Wayne MacVeagh, who carried on such a brilliant cross-examination of President Mitchell is given credit for bringing about the present situation. He went to New York after he finished with Mr. Mitchell and had a conference with certain persons connected with the coal industry among them it is reported J. P. Morgan. He was in New York Friday in connection with the matter.

The commissioners were informed of the new turn of affairs and acquiesced in the proposed arrangement. The subject did not directly come up in the public hearing and the adjournment proposition was made ostensibly to permit both sides to complete their work in preparing documentary evidence.

SUICIDE

Of Kitchell Blamer, a Well Known Resident of Monroe Township Saturday -- Found by Family Dead in the Barn.

Johnstown, O., Nov. 22.—Kitchell Blamer, a prominent Monroe township farmer, hanged himself today, his dead body being found early this afternoon in his barn three miles west of Johnstown. Mr. Blamer had been dead probably two hours.

For some time Mr. Blamer, who was 65 years old, had been sick and it seems that his illness affected his brain. The deceased who leaves two sons, William, living at home and Gideon of Alexandria, was a cousin of Postmaster Blamer of Johnstown.

The sick man had used a rope to hang himself. The body was found by members of the family.

Two relatives of Mr. Blamer, Samuel Blamer of Delaware, O., and Geo. Blamer of Michigan, ended their lives in a like manner.

Mr. Blamer struck his head against a beam several years ago and it is believed the suicide is due to that accident which injured his brain. Three months ago he claimed an attack of paralysis.

HANNA'S MAN

WILL GET REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR.

Though Several Candidates Are in the Field and the G. O. P. Has Its Troubles.

Columbus, O., Nov. 22.—The Republican gubernatorial problem is beginning to seriously agitate the G. O. P. Hanna's first choice it is now known would be Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland, but there is a strong Republican sentiment in Cuyahoga county in favor of naming Mr. Herrick for Mayor against Mayor Johnson, when the latter comes up for re-election. It is probable that Herrick is the strongest man that the Republicans could put up in an effort to break the Johnson regime in Cleveland and Cuyahoga county, and if he is willing, this may keep him out of the gubernatorial race. It is known, however, that he would not accept the Republican nomination for mayor unless it were accompanied by a distinct promise of something higher later on.

General Dick is undoubtedly an important gubernatorial quantity on the Republican side. He is held back in his ambition by the possibility that Hanna's health, which is really not good, might force him to retire from the senatorial contest to succeed himself, in which case if the legislature were Republican, Dick would go after the senatorship, hammer and tongs.

Harry Daugherty is a factor which both the Hanna men and the anti-Hanna men not of the Daugherty school regard with uncertainty. The defeat of Cyrus Huling for Congress in the Twelfth district had the effect of dampening the ardor of the Daugherty followers, since Huling had been Daugherty's right hand man and really the father of his boom. There is still however an unquestionable sentiment in favor of Daugherty's nomination, and old leaders of the movement in his favor. Like Speaker McKinnon, claim with emphasis that the defeat of Huling will in no wise effect Daugherty's claims upon the Republican convention.

There is a bare possibility that the young man from Fayette county might force his opponents into an alliance with him as he did in the organization of the Legislature.

Judge Douglas and other candidates are not now seriously considered, but may be taken up at any moment. Boss Hanna is watching the situation closely, and will be ready to trot out a dark horse whenever the occasion requires.

State Senator Patterson of Pike, an ultra-Hanna man connected with the late Republican State Executive committee said to your correspondent in discussing the gubernatorial situation:

"We will let the 'old man' select the man of course. Whoever Hanna is for will be the nominee, but I can tell you he will not be another Nash. The man we nominate this time must be willing to stand hitched. He must be for the Hannaites at all times."

Asked as to the probable attitude of Boss George B. Cox, the gentleman quoted said:

"Cox had a severe lesson taught him at Cleveland last summer, and one here in the speakership fight. He probably sees that he has no chance to be State leader. Cox will be in line with Hanna this time whether he likes it or not."

ROBBERY

Dozen Men Get Large Sum from Rock Island Express

Dynamite Used to Bow Open the Safe--Train Stopped Three Miles West Of Davenport, Iowa, At Midnight.

Davenport, Iowa, Nov. 22.—The men who held up the Rock Island express near here about midnight are believed to have crossed the Mississippi into Illinois. They stole a team from a farmer near the scene of the robbery about 2 o'clock and drove east.

Nothing has been heard from any of the pursuing posse.

John Mahin, of Muscatine, post-office inspector of this district was a passenger in the rear sleeper of the held-up train. He says that the first he was aware of anything being wrong was when the conductor came through the train very much excited saying that the train had been held up. The passengers were panic stricken.

"If they come in here let us give up everything and have no gun play" yelled one of the passengers and to this they all agreed.

Mr. Mahin, says the passengers then began to hide watches and jewels in their shoes and other safe places.

Davenport, Ia., Nov. 22.—A west-bound passenger and express train on the Rock Island road, known as No. 11, was held up by 12 or 15 masked robbers last midnight at a point three miles west of Davenport.

The robbers uncoupled the express car and ran it two miles further west, where the safe was blown open with dynamite. The explosion was heard in Davenport.

The train which was robbed left Chicago at 6:05 last night. It was the fast train that runs through to Fort Worth via St. Joseph and Kansas City.

At 2:15 a.m. it was definitely learned ed that robbers were successful in removing the contents of the safe from the express car. The amount of plunder taken is not definitely known this morning but it is estimated, by railroad men at $25,000 to $75,000. No person was injured.

The exact time of the holdup was 11:40 p. m. It was nearly two hours later before the train could proceed.

The robbers succeeded in stopping the train by placing a red lantern on the track, and when the engineer saw the danger signal he brought the train to a stop.

Five masked men boarded the train detached the mail and express cars and, forcing the engineer to accompany them, took these cars westward, leaving the rest of the train standing on the main track.

Near Gale siding the express car was blown up. The train usually carries a large amount of money.

The train was 35 minutes late at this station and two suspicious looking men boarded one of the passenger coaches. They are supposed to have had a hand in the robbery. The passengers were not molested and knew nothing of the robbery till it was over.

Sheriff Galtland and posses are now on the trail of the robbers who are now said to number five. The express company offers $2,000 for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

The robbers forced the baggage and expressman to stay with the engineer on the locomotive and kept the train crew covered with revolvers while the work was done. The robbers got all there was in the express safe.

THE DEPARTURE OF WU

Incidents of the Famous Celestial's Start For China.

SAYS HE WILL RETURN AGAIN.

With Twenty-Six Large American Trunks and Many Boxes the Ex-Minister Left Washington—Dress Suit, Opera Hat and Bathing Suit Among His Effects.

In the midst of oriental excitement, piles of bales, boxes and trunks and the regrets of thousands of admiring friends and relatives ex-Minister Wu Tingfang the other afternoon left Washington for six years the scene of his diplomatic and social triumphs, says the New York Times. He was accompanied by two members of the large suit which he brought with him to this country—Yung Kwai, interpreter, and Mr. Hsu, private secretary—and one Chinese servant, Mme. Wu and Chiao Chu, Mr. Wu's son, will remain here until Jan. 20, when they, too, will leave for China.

No ceremony marked the departure of the distinguished member of the diplomatic corps. The Pennsylvania railroad offered him a private car in which to make the trip to the Pacific coast, but he declined the offer and secured a drawing room and section in the Pullman car attached to the regular Chicago and St. Louis express.

His excellency traveled with twenty-six large American trunks. He found he could not get along with less without leaving a portion of his souvenirs behind. These were piled at the baggage car door, stamped with mysterious looking Chinese labels. There were also many boxes of Chinese workmanship, stacks of what appeared to be tea chests, odd looking jugs and demijohns from the Flowery Kingdom, hampers and baskets of foreign design and queer bundles of oriental sweetmeats, to be consumed on the journey. Half a dozen American suit cases completed the baggage.

With the exception of the trunks and bulky bales Mr. Wu had his baggage taken into the train with him, where he could have it under personal supervision. This slightly obstructed the car and made it difficult for other passengers to move about with ease, but the minister, after finding a seat, surrounded by his goods, appeared to accept the situation with his customary oriental philosophy. He was in a very good humor.

"I go away with a great deal of regret," said Mr. Wu when he had made himself comfortable. "I have been thinking, and I have come to the conclusion that the most remarkable thing about the American people after all is their wonderful energy. There are other marvelous things about you, but that is most surprising. You American people are—what is the word?—huslers. It's a mighty good word. I like that word. There is another word I like. You say, 'Get busy.' Busy is a good word. It's a slang word. I heard a young lady say it once. You American women talk slang, don't they? I like all American ladies and everything they do," said Mr. Wu gallantly.

Asked if he expected to return to the United States, Mr. Wu said: "I will come back some day, maybe next year, maybe the year after, but I'm coming back. I'm positive about that. Of course I'll come back. Why not?"

Mr. Wu, surveying the mass of luggage surrounding him and blocking the aisle, became confidential and said: "They are American clothes, but just a few—a dress suit, one of your hats that shut up and a bathing suit. I'm going to introduce the bathing suit in China, and I expect to wear it myself. Of course, I do not bathe suit proper? I think so. I wore one down at Atlantic City, and I liked it. It is the only comfortable sort of clothes you American people have, and you only wear them when you go in the water. Some things I can't understand about you American people."

"I'm taking the dress suit to China as a souvenir, a curiosity."

When Mme. Wu goes, she probably will be accompanied by several of the Chinese consuls in the United States, whose successors will be appointed by the new minister. Mr. Wu's son will remain in the United States until he is graduated from the high school at Atlantic City.

When the Baltic is frozen, she means to bathe in a covered pool, where the water will be kept at a temperature just above the freezing point. She believes, she has discovered the secret of perpetual youth, but the doctors say she will soon tire of that severe regime.

DAINTY TOUCHES.

Little Things Which Transform a Gown.

There is a pretty notion in Paris just now to take away the straight appearance of the collar by little clusters of velvet ribbon on each side toward the front.

It is easier to remodel an old costume this season than ever before. For instance, an old sleeve may be made quite modish by cutting it at the elbow and putting in a puff of silk or lace. The wide collars so universally becoming are a little out of date, but practically the same effect can be gained by strappings of velvet across the shoulders and a wide effect in trimming. High collars are the regulation thing, and only a few collarless models are seen, principally for evening wear.

The dainty house-gown is of yellow net tucked and banded with ecru insertion. The fichu is edged with a wide ruffle of mesh lace. The sleeves may be elbow length or have the two puffs shown with the ruffle at the wrist.

ACTIONS OF DOUKHOBORS.

Pilgrims Lay In Snow All Night While Seeking the Lord.
The Doukhobors' camp was a scene of activity at a little after 7 the other morning, says a Winnipeg special to the New York World. The shivering pilgrims were blue with cold. Hundreds had lain on the ground all night, and heavy snow had fallen. Others slept in bundles of straw.

At Foxwarren the Doukhobors stayed for nearly half an hour, singing chants and talking to the few villagers who came out in the cold. They told the resident minister that he did not love the Lord or he would march to find him with them, saying it more in sorrow than in anger.

The Rev. C. Jeffrey of the Church of England mission returned to Winnipeg recently from a trip north, during which he endeavored to reason with the Doukhobors and urge them to return to their farms, but his words had no effect. They insisted that they were seeking the Lord and following his command by forsaking all that they had.

TORPEDO MANEUVER WORK.

Fleet Will Actively Participate in the Caribbean Problems.

Active torpedo work is to be one of the features of the exercises of the naval maneuvers in the Caribbean sea, says the Washington Post. Three sets of live torpedoes have been shipped to Culebra along with a large quantity of ammunition, and they will be discharged at an imaginary enemy either by the armor clads equipped with torpedo tubes or by the torpedo boats.

The latter, under the command of Lieutenant Commander Lloyd H. Chandler, are working toward Culebra. They left Port Royal recently for Key West and from the latter point will cross to Cuba, thence to Haiti and Porto Rico, and will reach Culebra in ample time to take part in the search problem, which begins on Dec. 5. Rear Admiral Higginson, who will have charge of the defense in this problem, will have about thirty-five vessels under his command. The armor clads he will keep in a central position, but the remainder he will distribute at various points to report the appearance of the "enemy" or will send out in search of him.

Food Hungered For

Food is sometimes indigestible though appetizing in appearance; and it is sometimes digestible when it may not be attractive to the sight or taste.

To place before the household or the guest food that is always both appetite-stimulating and digestible, that is the trick of the expert cook. That is the perfect food—the Food Hungered For.

Royal Baking Powder is a specific aid to this end. The flavor from a hot Royal Baking Powder biscuit whets the appetite and the morsel itself is delicious to the taste and digestible and nutritious. Royal Baking Powder renders hot-breads wholesome. Food raised with Royal "tempts the appetite," and is also superlatively wholesome.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh, of 22 Isabella Street, Boston, has had an experience with "Blood Wine" which she will remember for life. "I suffered for years with dyspepsia. At times the pain seemed as if it would kill me. I could not eat, even bread and milk made me sick. I heard of 'Blood Wine' and reluctantly tried it. I began with small doses and increased as my strength returned. I took several bottles, and today am as well as any body, and can enjoy a hearty meal of any kind of food."

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Auditorium next Monday night Nov. 24 Rich and Harris's Big farce comedy success "Are You a Mason?" will be presented in this city by the same excellent company of comedians which has successfully toured the country in this play during the last two seasons. The comedy deals with Masonic affairs in a very humorous vein. Amos Bloodgood an elderly citizen of Rockford, Ill., and his son-in-law Frank Perry, of New York, practice a deception on their respective wives by pretending that they have joined Masonic lodges. Old Bloodgood began his career of deceit twenty years before the story of the play opens—immediately after his marriage. As years rolled on he has grown bolder and bolder and actually induces his wife to believe that his lodge has elevated him to the post of "Most Worshipful Grand Master." She is so thoroughly infatuated with Masonry that he easily appeased by his telling her it is all a part of the Masonic system. His son-in-law also pretends to his wife that he has also become a Mason and as a result when the old Bloodgoods visit their daughter's home the two husbands, unaware of each other's duplicity, fear to meet when they do. There is fun and confusion galore which continues unceasingly and hilariously until the final curtain.

A. O. U. W.

The members of both Crescent and Golden Rod lodges are growing enthusiastic over the rapid growth of membership. The A. O. U. W. was the first insurance order to establish itself upon a permanent financial basis. It was the first to establish a table of rates based upon the scientific principles of life insurance. In consequence of these radical changes it became necessary to educate the membership and the public along these lines. It proved uphill work and the growth of the order was slow, but now all fraternal insurance companies recognize the necessity for it and are following in the footsteps of the A. O. U. W. The A. O. U. W. has thus shown itself to be not only the pioneer fraternal insurance organization, but it has blazed the pathway of safety for others. It has shown itself a leader. The lodges are holding open meetings every two weeks for the benefit of the friends of the members. These meetings are beneficial for there the plan of insurance is studied, and a knowledge of this great order obtained.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 3. This meeting will be open to members and their families, and members of the D. of H. Each member to be expected to bring some friend who is eligible and desirable for membership. A musical and literary program will be rendered. Brother Pratt has equipped his lantern with the latest electrical appliances and now boasts of best lantern in the city. He promises some happy surprises. At the last open meeting eleven applications were written. Men who desire reliable insurance are now seeking admission.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS.

Of a New Catarrh Cure.

A large and constant increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers. This is not entirely the result of our changeable climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names, are really catarrh. Formerly the name catarrh was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh, but the throat, stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to catarrhal diseases as well as the nasal passages.

In fact, wherever there is mucous membrane there is a feeding ground for catarrh. The usual remedies, inhalers, sprays, douches or powders, have been practically failures, as far as anything more than temporary relief was concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions, without having the remotest effect upon the blood and liver, which are the real sources of catarrhal diseases.

It has been known for some years that the radical cure of catarrh could never come from local applications, but from an internal remedy, acting on the blood and expelling the catarrhal poison from the system.

A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time, has met with remarkable success as a genuine, radical cure for catarrh.

It may be found in any drug store, sold under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, large pleasant tasting lozenges, composed principally of antiseptic ingredients. Bloodroot, Red Gum and similar catarrh specifics.

Dr. Ainslee in speaking of the new catarrh cure says: "I have tried the new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, upon thirty or forty patients with remarkable satisfactory results. They clear the head and throat more effectively and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen, and although they are what is called a patent medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them as I know them to be free from cocaine and opiates, and that even a little child may use them with entire safety."

Any sufferer from nasal catarrh, throat or bronchial trouble, catarrh of the stomach, liver or bladder will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited. Few are entirely free from it. Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it. Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Odd Fellows.

At the meeting of Newark Lodge No. 623, I. O. O. F., held on Monday evening the initiatory degree was conferred on two candidates.

The regular meeting of Olive Branch lodge of Odd Fellows was held on Tuesday evening with a good attendance of the members. Considerable business of importance was transacted, and the first degree was conferred on one candidate. At the meeting to be held on next Tuesday evening the second degree will be conferred on two candidates.

The report of the Grand Sire submitted to the Sovereign Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., at its session in Des Moines, Iowa, several weeks ago contains much valuable information about the order and we copy the following:

"There were 127 grand lodges established, of which six were in foreign countries. The total number of subordinate encampments 2,780. The entire membership of the order reached 1,002,272. During the year there were 99,393 initiations in the subordinate lodges, and including those initiated in other branches, the total reached 185,845. The amount of relief distributed was $3,939,785.68, an increase of $203,093.08. The financial statement shows revenues from all branches, $10,826,876.66. Increase $666,025.19; expense $7,796,150.31; increase $436,353.03; surplus revenues $2,030,775.35; invested funds $29,852,769.38; increase $1,309,076.28. The report says that since 1830 there have been 2,544,120 members initiated into the subordinate lodges 2,565,907 members received, 256,606 widowed families relieved, 252,354 members deceased. Total relief, $192,665,214.47; total revenue $240,430,422.21.

These figures show clearly what a grand order Odd Fellowship is and what great good it has done and is doing in the world. The Sovereign Grand Lodge is the highest body in the order in the world and the Grand Sire is the highest oficer of the order in the world.

A Way to Photograph on Canvas.

Artist Bechard, a pupil and friend of Cabanel, has discovered a method by which he can reproduce any subject by photography on painters' canvas, reducing to the minimum the difficult art of painting reproductions. Says the Paris correspondent of the New York World. No one has been able to do it hitherto because the canvas is coated with white lead and fatty substances. By using a photograph of the picture on canvas the necessity of spending weeks, perhaps months, in work on the original outline is obviated, as the shading is faithfully reproduced with the outline by the camera, and only the colors have to be filled in. The reproduction of a painting like, for example, "Le Poete," in the Luxembourg, could not be finished in less than four weeks by an artist of average talent. But by photographing the picture on canvas and afterward painting in the colors the whole can be completed in eight days and, it is claimed, in equally good style.

MISS MONIE BOWEY.

No. 38 Perry Street, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me up for more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pain in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers of the wonderful cures performed by Wine of Cardui I wrote to one of the parties and received a very satisfactory reply and I immediately sent for some. In a very short time I felt generally better and after seven weeks faithful use I was once more well and strong. I have never had a sick hour since and I daily bless your splendid medicine.

THE CHURCHES

THANKSGIVING SERVICES NEXT THURSDAY

Will Be Held at Plymouth Congregational Church—Programs for Sunday Services, November 23.

The Thanksgiving services will be held at the Congregational church on Thursday at 10:30 a. m. The sermon will be preached by Rev. L. S. Boyce. A Thanksgiving offering will be taken.

Y. M. C. A. Sunday Lecture.
Dr. C. S. Carr, editor of "Medical Talk," of Columbus, has been secured by the Y. M. C. A. to deliver the address at the Men's Meeting next Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Carr is a man of exceedingly interesting personality. He has not only been a successful physician but in recent years has won a wide reputation through his good sound sense with which he fills "Medical Talk," and through other work he does as writer and critic. Besides this he is active in Christian service, holding weekly meetings at the work house and among other unfortunate classes in his city.

He will speak on the subject "The Athletics of Christianity". The young men of Newark should turn out in large numbers to hear him.

Second M. E. Church.
Sunday school 9:30. Preaching 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning topic "Is there anything connected with the saloon that ought to be identified with the church?" Evening topic, "How thankfulness should be manifested." Epworth League 6:15 Sunday evening. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening. The public is cordially invited to all our services.

First Church of Christ, Scientist.
Second floor of Memorial hall. Services Sunday 10:30 a. m. subject, "Ancient and Modern Necromancy; or Mesmerism and Hypnotism." Golden text: "We wrestle not against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." Ephesians, 6:12. Sunday school 9:45. Wednesday 7:30 p. m. Reading room open Saturdays from 2 to 5 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Trinity Church.
Once a month the choir of Trinity church presents a programme of specially elaborate music, calling for its best efforts, the fruit of much study and practice of the best compositions available. Sunday night, the second of these festival programmes will be given. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to the whole community. On the similar occasion a month ago the church was crowded with an appreciative congregation, including many besides regular worshippers. It is hoped that this new opportunity to feel the inspiration of choice, sacred music will attract as many as before.

The Rev. Mr. Van Fossen will continue his series of sermons on the Episcopal Church, taking ritualism for his theme. The meaning of its use will be explained. All are somewhat familiar with the restoration of the old-time ornaments and ceremonies in the Episcopal church, now generally in progress throughout America, which is a reaction from a long period of neglect and oblivion. The coming sermon will deal with these restorations, treating of their character and purpose. The subject is one of present interest, and should enlist the attention of a wide circle of hearers. Lyman Abbott, in The Outlook, considers the restoration movement in the Episcopal church to be the most significant religious event of the present age. Its importance certainly justifies thoughtful contemplation.

At the 7:30 a. m. service, the newly confirmed members will make their first communion. The musical programme for the two later services are these:

Morning Service, 10:30.

PLUCKY MRS. PESCHEL

PROTECTS HER ENTIRE FAMILY WITH PERUNA.

HAS A HAPPY HOME.

This Beautiful Mother Says:

"I Cannot Help But Praise Peruna."

"I Am Never Without It."

"As Soon as I Find the Children Have the Least Cold, I Give Them Peruna."

"A Few Doses Helps Them."

One of the greatest foes with which every family has to contend is our changeable climate. To protect the family from colds and coughs is always a serious problem, and often impossible. Sooner or later it is the inevitable fate of every one to catch cold. Care in avoiding exposure and the use of proper clothing will protect from the frequency and perhaps the severity of colds, but with the greatest of precautions they will come. This is a settled fact of human experience. Especially is this true during the stormy and unsettled weather of early winter. Everybody must expect to be caught somewhere or somehow. Perhaps it will be wet feet, or cold draught, or damp clothes, or may be too close confinement in hot rooms and then going out into the cold carelessly, or it may be one of a thousand other little mishaps, but no one is shroud enough to always avoid the inevitable catching cold.

Sometimes colds come like an epidemic; everybody seems to have one at once. The very air about us is poison to the head, throat and lungs.

There is no fact of medical science better known than that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Thousands of families in all parts of the United States are protected each winter by Peruna. Once in the family Peruna always stays. No home can spare Peruna after the first trial of it. A splendid example of this fact is found in the beautiful home of Mrs. Paul Peschel, of 14 Quitman street, Newark, N. J. Read her letter.

NEWARK, N. J., June 17, 1900.
Dr. S. B. Hartman:
Dear Sir—My three children were sick and my husband had an attack of la grippe. I gave the children Peruna, and now they look as if they hadn't been sick at all. I also gave it to my husband until he was good and well. I do not know how I could have stood taking care of them and being up night and day, had it not been for Peruna.

"Last winter was the first winter in sixteen years that I did not have a cough. It is impossible to explain my thanks in words. I never looked as well as I do now."

"Peruna is our family medicine and always will be. I do my own housework and sewing, and get along lovely, now that I am so strong and well, thanks to Peruna and your good advice."

"I cannot help but praise Peruna. I am never without it, and as soon as I find the children have the least cold I give them Peruna. A few doses helps them, and I hope that every one who reads my testimony will try Peruna as it is a friend indeed." Thankfully yours,
MRS. PAUL PESCHEL,
14 Quitman St., Newark, N. J.

A Safe Family Doctor.
Peruna has been used in many other homes with the same results. The following are samples: Mrs. M. E. Seymour, Dye, Ga., writes:

"I am ready to speak a few words in favor of Peruna and Manalin. I have tried them for nearly every ill of life for myself and family, and find them to be all the doctor claims them to be. Peruna cured me of female trouble when my doctor could not. My advice to all suffering women is, consult Dr. Hartman. What he has done for me he will do for you."—Mrs. M. E. Seymour.

Peruna Added 49 Pounds.
Mrs. Maria Goertz, Cleo, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity."—Mrs. Maria Goertz.

Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh will be sent free upon request to any address. This book contains ninety-five pages of interesting reading matter, and will be found invaluable to mothers in aiding them to guard against and cure the many little catarrhal ailments of children that come with the severe weather of winter.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Road receipts MUST be presented when December taxes are paid, if credit is allowed for same.

Remember, in asking for taxes that property stands on the Treasurer's books in the name of the owner on April 7, 1902. Taxpayers will avoid trouble and save time by bringing the last tax receipt, especially so if they have sold or purchased property within the year.

When asking for amount of your taxes by mail, please state clearly in whose name and in what township or town, school district or ward, the property is located and whether real or personal.

LIQUOR AND CIGARETTE TAX—Liquor tax payable one-half December 20, and one-half June 20, year ending fourth Monday in May, 1903. Cigarette tax payable June 20, annually.

WHEN TO PAY—Section 1091 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio requires one-half of the Taxes charged on the duplicate, exclusive of Road Tax, together with the same, to be paid on or before the 20th day of December, 1902, and the remaining half on or before June 20th, 1903.

GENERAL INFORMATION—The entire delinquencies and one-half of all other taxes charged on the duplicates of 1902 are required to be paid on or before the 20th day of December, and the remainder on or before the 20th day of June next. Any person charged with taxes may, at his or her option, pay the full amount thereof before the close of the books at the December collection, but it is required to pay all road taxes, all delinquent taxes, and one-half of the current year's tax before the close of December collection and the remaining one-half of the current year's tax during the June collection. When one-half of the taxes charged on real estate is not paid during the December collection a penalty of fifteen per cent. shall be added (and this penalty does not belong to the Treasurer). See Section 2844, Revised Statutes, which says:

"When one-half the taxes charged against any entry of real estate shall not be paid on or before the 20th day of December in that year, a penalty of 15 per cent. thereon shall be added to such half of such taxes on the duplicate," which together with the remaining half must be paid during the June collection. Real estate having delinquent taxes of 1901 or prior to 1902, remaining unpaid on December 20th, 1902, will be advertised, and if not paid before the third Tuesday of January, 1903, will be offered for sale. In event of no sale such property is forfeited to the state and will be offered at the biennial sale of forfeited lands.

In case of failure to pay the December payment of taxes on personal property the whole year's tax becomes due, which the Treasurer is then required to collect by distraint if necessary, as in case of delinquent personal property taxes for years prior to 1902 due and unpaid.

WHEN LIEN ATTACHES—Tax payers are advised that a tax year and a calendar year are not the same. The lien for any tax attaches the day preceding the second Monday in April of any year, but the first half of such tax is paid the following December, and the second half the June following the December.

How to Keep Young.

One of the secrets of keeping young, vigorous and supple joints is to continue to practice the activities of youth and to refuse to allow the mind to stiffen the muscles by its suggestion of age limitations. If you like Peter Cooper and William E. Gladstone, who kept up the vitalizing exercises of robust manhood when far into the eighties, had succumbed at forty to the thought of approaching age, how much of their valuable life work would have remained undone!—Success.

The transfer of Ambassador Charles M. Tower of Pennsylvania from Russia to Germany is a distinct advancement and rounds out a diplomatic service which has stamped him as a worthy and able representative of his country. Mr. Tower is a native of Philadelphia and belongs to a well known family of that city. He is descended from John Tower of Norfolk, England, who settled in Hingham, Mass., in 1637. Mr. Tower, who is now in his fifty-fifth year, is a graduate of Harvard university.

AN ODD DISEASE.

Hoosier Doctors Hailed by One Called "Gas Eye."

A Dublin (Ind.) dispatch to the New York World states that a new and peculiar disease has taken hold of the employees of the pumping stations throughout the gas belt, and for the want of a better name it is called the "gas eye." The pain caused by this affliction is said to be of the severest, and physicians are unable to determine the cause of the disease or prescribe a remedy.

The men working around the big compressors are surrounded more or less by escaping gas all the time. Their eyes become inflamed, and it is almost impossible to bear the light. Not all the men become afflicted, but those employed in the compressor rooms have periodical attacks of the disease in the severest form imaginable. Permanent injury to the eyesight has resulted in several cases.

New Dodge in Street Begging.

Ideas count for success, even in street begging. One of the latest dodges of the New York solicitor of alms is heroic. It is worked in this way, says the New York Times: A shabbily attired man hurries along the street, apparently unconscious of his surroundings. He exasperates, as though by chance, on to the well polished shoe of a passerby. Before the man has time to protest the mendicant drops on his knees and, with the remnants of a well worn handkerchief, rubs away at the soiled shoe, meanwhile pouring forth profuse apologies. Nine times out of ten he gets a dime for his politeness.

Novelties in Next Year's Calendars.

All sorts and kinds of realistic things are out in calendars for 1903, says the New York Times. There is the watermelon with a jolly negro's face in the middle of it; there are luck calendars, barn doors with horse shoes, rabbits' feet, all sorts and kinds of lucky emblems tacked to it and most of them really set on to the paper and not in it. Football calendars are of course out in profusion. Some excellent ones with figures in the appropriate colors have been tacked to one corner a piece of transparent, a waistcoat strap and a button, probably supposed mementos of some ill fated hero of the strenuous game.

Kruiger May Go Back to Africa.

An Amsterdam letter to the London Express states that Mr. Kruiger's intimate circle of friends has a movement on foot to send him back to South Africa. This is a surprise, and is expected by the ex-president's family. Mr. Kruiger has given notice that he will vacate his present residence in November, but has not yet made up his mind whether he would accompany the republicans home if elected to go. It is understood that the generals on their next visit to England will sound proper quarters on this point.

WHAT WOMEN WEAR.

Three Cornered Hats—Picture Millinery.

The three cornered hat is again in vogue. It comes well down on the hair at the back of the head and is elevated by a bandana in front, taking a peculiarly beautiful line when the hat is equally well understood by both the designer and the wearer. Some very smart examples of this are in green and in black velvet.

Fashion decrees that the tailor made hat shall match the gown with which it is worn, but there is still a great liking for black, and with best gowns particularly picture hats can be very pretty and smart when all black.

The fashion of wearing headgear is also undergoing a change, and the tendency is to wear the hat much more off the face, so that it shows a great deal of the hair. The desired effect is gained by means of a high bandband; otherwise the hats are flat, and the most chic are those with very little trimming. These hats with little in the way of decoration must be perfect in curve, with bold outlines. In fact, many of them are copies of the hats seen in Romney and Gainsborough paintings.

The cut shows a smart hat of black panne, with a lining of tuckered chiffon. It is trimmed with a ruche of satin ribbon and a long, drooping ostrich plume.

Pope's Fight At Bull Run

A NEW ANTI-WAR STORY
August 20-September 1, 1862

(Copyright, 1902 by G. L. Kilmer)

PLAINLY the battle of Second Bull Run, or Manassas, on Aug. 29 and 30, 1862, was not fought according to plan by either army. Battles rarely are fought as planned, although the generals are usually reluctant to admit the fact.

The pivot upon which the battle turned was Stonewall Jackson's corps. The morning of Aug. 29 Jackson found his column cut off from the main body of Confederate forces. The road between him and Longstreet's command, with which Lee was marching, lay in the hands of the enemy. He gave up trying to march to meet Longstreet and literally hunted cover. Longstreet was marching from the west to unite with Jackson, and Jackson the day before had been marching to the west to shorten the distance between his corps and Longstreet's. Late on the 25th he stumbled into a fight which showed that the Federal army under General John Pope was moving in strong columns all around him. In fact, the morning of Aug. 29 Jackson was in a trap.

For two days Jackson had "felt" the Federals on the west of his line, but the 25th they appeared to be massed on the east of him, and to the east he faced. All Jackson wanted was to be let alone until Longstreet arrived on the field. The better to keep the enemy at arm's length he formed his soldiers behind an unfinished railroad embankment which extended northeast and southwest across the historic Warrenton pike on the western borders of the old battlefield of 1861.

At the beginning of the two days' battle the aim of Pope was merely to destroy Jackson, who had recklessly been exposed to the whole Federal army. Jackson's aim was to hold his ground until help came, and the aim of Lee and Longstreet was to succor Jackson. The ball opened on the 29th with a fierce artillery duel. Pope wanted to shell Jackson's men out of their stronghold, but Jackson had plenty of guns and ammunition. While the guns worked away at long range Pope tried to find a weak spot in Stonewall's line. He thought he saw it on the Confederate left, but when his infantry tried to rush the embankment there they were hurled back by artillery fire.

One point in the railroad embankment was impregnable. This was a long deep cut where the banks were steep on both sides. The cut was resolutely attacked by the Federal brigade led by General Cuvier Grover about the middle of the afternoon. With a line of 1,500 men Grover marched down a gentle slope toward the track and across an open. Not a shot was fired by the troops until close to the enemy. In front of the cut the First South Carolina regiment had been lying in wait all day. At the advance of Grover's men the Carolinians fell back into the cut and waited for the Federals to come on. Grover's men leaped down the bank, and the First Massachusetts lined up in front of the Palmetto boys.

Beginning with a rifle duel, the struggle waxed closer until at last the assailants and defenders were only ten paces apart and fought with swords, pistols, bayonets and clubbed muskets. Grover was finally driven back with a loss of one-third of his command. The Carolinians mustered but 283 men at the beginning of the fight and lost 143 killed and wounded.

It was about the hour of Grover's repulse from the railroad cut that Longstreet's column put in an appearance on the flank of Jackson. All day during the march to save Jackson Longstreet had heard the guns of the battle along the railroad. Federals were encountered at every step. Longstreet placed batteries in position only to have them fired upon by Federals, and every show of infantry force was met by a similar display on the Yankee side. Toward midnight Jeb Stuart's watchful cavalry brought word to Longstreet that a large force of Federals was marching against his right flank. Finally Longstreet gathered up his brigades and sent them after the scattered batteries and regiments of the enemy, and there was a general retreat, ending at dark. Lee had urged Longstreet to attack everything in sight, but his lieutenant was cautious about rushing upon an unknown force and after his experiments of the afternoon reported that the attack had better be delayed until the morning of the 30th. With this in view, he called back his advance lines and went into bivouac.

When Pope saw that Longstreet's troops were falling back, he telegraphed to Washington that he had scored a victory and the Confederates were retreating. The day had opened with a similar retreat on the part of Jackson, but his retreat only went as far as the corner of the railroad cut. But if Pope was in a fog as to what the Confederates were doing, the case was no clearer across the lines. Longstreet and Lee supposed that Pope was finally maneuvering to fall back to Washington along the Warrenton pike, which bisected the field of operations. There were two factors in the preliminary movements at Bull Run which the leaders on both sides didn't take into account until the plans of both had been up to the point of the coming of Longstreet, and Lee and Longstreet knew nothing of Fitz-John Porter's Federal corps off on the flank of Longstreet. These new factors made the fighting of Aug. 30 in regular, bloody and for the most part useless for the Federal army. Well, it had been for Pope had he done what Lee and Longstreet supposed he would do the night of Aug. 29, retreated to Washington. He would have saved his army and had a better chance at Lee.

Longstreet's entrance into the decisive fighting of Second Bull Run was on Aug. 30. It was sudden and dramatic, and it took years of comparing notes to settle the exact time and manner of it. The celebrated case of Fitz-John Porter, one of the most noted in the history of courts martial, turned upon the arrival and participation of Longstreet that day.

As a finishing blow to Jackson, Pope late the 30th of August ordered Porter to attack the right flank of Jackson's line at the railway. Two divisions of Porter moved to the charge, leaving the extreme left unprotected except for the Federal battery of Hazlett and his supports, the demobridge of G. K. Warren. Warren had but 1,000 men, the Tenth New York zouaves on the skirmish line and Duryee's zouaves guarding the battery.

Notice to Parents, Pupils and Teachers.

The Great Seal drawing contest in the Public Schools, while creating unusual interest among the pupils and stimulating their best efforts to secure the prizes offered, is only a secondary matter when compared with the health of the pupils.

No teacher can do her pupils justice when the greater portion of them are suffering from coughs and colds. When one coughs THEY ALL COUGH and the confusion is sometimes so great that the teachers work has to be suspended. This could be avoided if parents would realize that GREAT SEAL PRUNE LAXATIVE will prevent Colds and GREAT SEAL COUGH BALM cures the Cough. A bottle of each kept in the house will prevent much of the confusion which teachers are powerless to silence. If we could only make you realize THE TRUTH OF THESE STATEMENTS AND THE MERIT OF THESE REMEDIES much good would be accomplished.

They are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee of satisfaction or your money refunded, and a trial will prove them worthy of your confidence.

DR. JAS. HILL

After 53 Years in the Ministry Two of Which Were Spent in Newark, Is Dead.

On the 18th of this month there died in South Englewood, Chicago, Ill., Rev. James Hill, D. D., after an active and efficient service of fifty-three years. He was aged eighty-eight years. In 1876 Mr. Hill was appointed to Newark, where he preached for two years. In this city he married for his second wife, Mrs. Roberts. Rev. Mr. Hill was a man of remarkable piety and talents, and was five different times in different districts appointed presiding elder.

Here is an incident, says the Kansas City Journal, with which every country editor who roasts the man who borrows his neighbor's paper, instead of subscribing, can point a moral and adorn a tale: The three children of John D. Parsons, near Shelbyville, Mo., had scarlet fever, and their home was quarantined. Charles Bright, a neighbor, had a habit of borrowing Mr. Parsons' Shelbyville paper and when he called for it it was thrown to him from a window. Now three of Mr. Bright's children have scarlet fever, and one little fellow has died of it. Of course the germs of disease were carried in that borrowed paper.

I have used Good Hair Soap with splendid results, and consider it the best hair remedy ever manufactured. It makes the hair exceedingly light and fluffy and shines like silk.

SUDDEN

DEATH OF VETERAN HACKMAN, ADAM MURDOCK

Friday He Drove to Cemetery and Seemed in Good Health Almost to the Last.

Mr. Adam Murdock aged 68 years, a 2d at his home on South Sixth street at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, his death coming with startling suddenness. Mr. Murdock had been in his usual health Friday, and no thought was entertained of illness or death. The deceased had for 49 years driven a hack for the Bolton transfer company, and on Friday morning with his hack he attended the funeral of Lawrence Boehn, driving to Mt. Calvary cemetery.

He was out all day and came home and ate a good supper, after which he came up town.

He returned to his home and retired at the usual time. About four o'clock he got up from his bed, and going into the yard pumped a drink of water. Returning he again lay down, gave a quick gasp or two and attempted to speak. The only thing that his wife could understand were the words "I don't." The rest was unintelligible and when his son Lewis came in from another room, he was dead.

The deceased leaves a wife and four children, Ed. Murdock of Chicago Junction, Mrs. Ella Tomlinson, of Springfield, O., Morgan Murdock of Buffalo, N. Y., and Lewis Murdock of this city.

Adam Murdock was known to almost every body in Newark. In his business as a cab driver he was honest with his employers and courteous with his customers. Every one who knows him has a kindly word for his memory, and sympathy for his family.

TO JUDGE HORSES.

Hunters and Jumpers and How They Win Prizes.

Horses entered in the hunter and jumper classes must have certain measurements and specific points of superiority before they can be classed among the prize winners.

In looking over an animal from the front, perhaps the most important part is that between the hoofs and his shoulder. It is here where the judges have their most difficult duty. Ten points are given for soundness and contour in the fore limbs to the knees, ten for strength displayed from the knees up to and including the shoulders. Five points are awarded for the head and neck.

The judges then view the horse from the rear and if the requirements are met with and the proper strength is displayed in the hind quarters fifteen points more are allowed. Ten more points are given for general symmetrical appearance. This makes up the 50 per cent for conformation. This examination is made before the horse is shown in action. For his performance then he can gain another fifty points, and the two averages added together, fifty for natural gifts and fifty for conduct in action, determine his standing.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the formation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Be careful. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
